Dear Parents and Students,

The Greenville Federation Festival (morning event at East Carolina University) will be here before we know it, and once again, each festival room – for security reasons – needs to have a monitor IN THE ADJUDICATION ROOM. There have been liability issues elsewhere in the country, so we are asked to provide a person to sit in with the judge and the student while the student is performing. The only proscription is that a parent may not monitor for his or her own child – obviously! Would you please volunteer for about one hour of monitoring. I can certainly request for you to monitor either during or near your child's/children's performance times, as you prefer. We cannot have the event without monitors, so thank you for your help!

Now, students, the new Federation festival scheduler is also asking for YOUR help as runners (picking up papers from the judging studios and taking them to the grading room. From each teacher, about three to four students are asked to volunteer. NOTE: you would not be assigned to be a runner before you are scheduled to play, so that you can still get to a practice room to warm up. If a family has more than one student, any or all of the students may volunteer as runners. (Students who are participating for the first time this year should just focus on performing: there will be runner opportunities in another year.) Thank you for your help!

Sincerely,

Lorraine
